7. Presentation: Regent Universities Counseling Center Leaders – “Mental Health Through a Pandemic”—Rachel Boon, Permanent Secretary

President Wintersteen introduced the presenters.

- Erin Baldwin introduced her co-presenters and spoke about trends in mental health on college campuses such as:
  - National growth in utilization of mental health services is 6 times the growth of enrollment over five years.
  - University presidents indicate increasing priority of mental health and well-being.
  - Limited resources along with limited staff.

All of Iowa’s regent universities participate in the National College Health Assessment. Data was presented on the top 10 factors affecting academic performance at each of the universities.

- Brian Vanderheyden spoke about the joint letter from the Department of Education and Department of Justice calling on action on the mental health crisis. He also spoke about the concept of a “health promoting university”, which engages all sectors for well-being and diversity, equity and inclusion of all students. Reorients all areas to support well-being in all areas, from student programs to the policy level.
- Kristen Sievert presented about strategies for supporting mental health at the universities and how they have built out services and resources to support holistic well-being.
  - ISU Individual (Interpersonal/Intrapersonal) services: Online, self-guided programs; therapy assistance online; medical nutrition therapy team (cross-department collaboration for treatment of eating disorders); workshops; peer ambassadors/educators.
- Brian Vanderheyden presented on:
  - ISU Community (Institutional & Policy) services: Green Dot (violence prevention) and social norms campaigns (removing stigmas against seeking assistance for mental health and well-being).
- Jennifer Schneiderman spoke about UNI’s individual programs:
  - UNI Individual (Interpersonal/Intrapersonal) services: wellness coaching, individual counseling and group counseling (using graduate counseling students); primary care and psychiatric care.
- Shelley O’Connell spoke about UNI’s community programs:
  - UNI Community (Institutional & Policy) services: Student in Distress Guide; assisting student presentations; suicide prevention and mental health ally training.
- Barry Schreier spoke about surveying U of I students and how they perceive their own resilience and tenacity and how what the institution says about them affects them (telling them that they are not doing well makes them think they are not doing well). Focus on messaging that supports student resilience and mental well-being.

- U of I Individual & Community Focus: movement to well-being; Kognito, suicide prevention and mental health training (online for all students – required); support and crisis line (answered by local crisis unit 24/7); postvention task force (supporting students coming back to campus after being online); collegiate recovery program; food pantry/meal sharing/clothing pantry (hiring more staff to support basic student needs); embedded counseling model (full-time therapists instituted across the campus).
- Erin Baldwin noted how ICCPHSE members can help with supporting mental health for students:
  - Engagement and openness to the Health Promoting University vision and framework.
  - Prioritize holistic well-being for students, faculty, staff and the campus community in strategic plan.
  - Be influencers and assist with engagement of key institutional stakeholders.
  - Support innovation, resources and infrastructure.
- Questions
  - President Fisher asked about how smaller institutions can support mental health and well-being:
    - Students want to engage safely with other students, and that can have a deeper impact than just speaking to someone from the education institution. It was also noted that using the “Togetherall” online community may be a way to facilitate engagement on mental health and well-being issues.
    - Giving students a choice in how they access services increases their likelihood that they will use them/finding out how students expect to access resources and meeting them there.
    - Messaging is also a powerful way to reach your students.
    - Office of Student Conduct or similar departments can use student voices and ideas to impact and reach students in need.
    - VAR: Validate, Appreciate, Refer training to help students be able to have difficult conversations with their peers.
  - Question was asked about assessment of programs.
    - Erin Baldwin spoke about ISU using student feedback as well as metrics from departments based on score cards.
    - Shelley O’Connell noted that UNI uses student learning outcomes to measure impact. Satisfaction surveys are also used.
    - Barry Schreier said U of I uses students surveys. GPAs are also being used to note correlation of students who reach out for mental health assistance and improvement of GPA after GPA may have slipped.
  - President Alsop asked if presentation will be shared, and it will be sent to the group.

8. Presentation: Dr. Mark Wiederspan, Executive Director of Iowa College Aid “Enrollment Report”— Rachel Boon, Permanent Secretary

Julie Ntem presented the fall enrollment report on behalf of Director Wiederspan. Data coming in is not currently complete. Submission of data is due in early November, and most institutions have not yet submitted. There is a trend of falling enrollment for undergraduates from the preliminary numbers. Six institutions are seeing an increase in graduate students and four are seeing a decrease. More information should come in late November and will be sent to Rachel Boon who will distribute via the listserv.

9. New Business for the Good of the Order—Patricia Draves, Chair

Iowa OER:

Advancing College
in the State of Iowa

Affordability

Kyle Collins, Northeast Iowa Community College
Abbey Elder, Iowa State University

Open Educational Resources (OER)

teaching, learning, and research resources that are free of cost and access barriers, and which also carry legal permission for open use.

Who We Are

The Iowa Open Education Action Team (Iowa OER) is a group of college, university and agency leaders who voluntarily work together to support a high-quality and affordable higher education for students in the state of Iowa through the use of open educational resources (OER).

- 2018 Midwest Higher Education Compact regional OER Policy and Implementation Summit
- Regents Universities, Community Colleges, Private Colleges, the Iowa Department of Education, the Iowa Legislature, the Iowa Area Education Agencies (AEAs) are represented
- Assesses and provides support for OER initiatives across the state

Our Vision

Every college student in Iowa will have access to courses or programs fully using OER to support an affordable, high quality education.

Why We Do This

“Had they not been OER courses, I would not have been able to afford to attend school due to the cost.”

Institutional Collaborations

- Website: Monthly blog posts, webinar summaries, and links to resources
- Webinars: Monthly presentations on topics of interest
- Listserv: Email list for connecting with OER champions across the state
- Iowa OER Toolkit: Open Google Drive with handouts, slidesets, tips, and more to institutions get started
- Open Education Network: Coordinated membership for all colleges in the state at a reduced price
- OER Commons Group: A crowdsourced collection of OER adopted or created in the state of Iowa

Iowa Open Education Toolkit ▾

-  1. Getting Started: Learn about OER

GEER (Governor's Emergency Education Relief) Grants

- GEER grant for the Iowa Private Academic Libraries (IPAL)
- GEER Grant for I-COER (Iowa Cross Institutional Open Education Resources)
- GEER Grant for Regents OER Initiatives
- GEER Grant for Iowa Community Colleges

Iowa OER Summit

- Coordinated with the support of MHEC
- 285 attendees
- Participants learned about Open Educational Resources and more advanced topics like Open Pedagogy
- Response survey found that a majority of participants were new to OER

Support is Increasing Across the State

Iowa students saved over $8 million dollars over the past 3 years thanks to the use of OER

Support for and interest in OER has been increasing steadily since our team began meeting in 2018

Why this work matters

The use of OER helps:

- Save students money
- Improves learning outcomes, particularly for low-income and first generation students
- Supports instructor innovation and course development
- Increases student retention & progress into their careers

There are a lot of students like Brandon in Iowa, who could do more with our support. Using OER helps those students stay in college and move into their careers without the barrier of high textbook costs.

How are you supporting OER at your institution?

Share your successes with #OER4Students or get in touch with us to get started.
